

"You Really Got a Hold on Me" was the first track recorded for The Beatles second LP With the Beatles, and features John Lennon on lead vocal with George Harrison on harmony. The Beatles acquired an imported copy and included it in their repertoire early in 1963. This session for the new LP began with Please Please Me still at number one in the album charts four months after its release, and in the midst of a rigorous touring schedule that also had to include BBC sessions for radio and television.
